Oehlbach® XXL Transmission Ultra 320 Digital TV

Hifi Test 03/2012

High-end Oehlbach XXL Transmission Ultra 320 antenna cable

Digital TV and HDTV offer the best conditions for optimal picture and sound quality. The transmission of high-frequency signals in cable networks requires correspondingly high-quality, troublefree transmission paths to the receiver. Its 5x electromagnetic shielding (shielding rating of 125 dB!) in conjunction with rugged metal connectors offer maximum protection against external emitted noise. In addition, movable magnets suppress high-frequency interference along the path of the wire as sheath current filters. The precisions and 24-carat gold-plating of the control contacts ensure contact stability.

Conclusion

The „XXL Transmission Ultra“ cable from Oehlbach ensures secure, high-quality transmission of digital TV, HDTV and 3D TV between the wall socket and the TV or HDTV receiver. High-frequency sources of interference have no chance against this cable.
